Key in to St John's Cathedral!

Hand in hand with the release of its new logo, St John's Catholic Cathedral (Portsmouth) has just revamped its website: www.PortsmouthCatholicCathedral.org.

The revised site takes the former version that little bit further, incorporating a wider range of features and illustrations for those interested in enquiring about the Christian faith in general and the activities and role of the Cathedral in particular.

Asked about the new site, Canon David Hopgood, Cathedral Dean replied: 'Our community continues to grow. More and more people are showing interest in the scope of activity at the Cathedral, in the history of the Cathedral and our Diocese and in the role of the Church in Portsmouth. As part of that response,' continued Canon Hopgood, 'we set to work to rebuild and re-launch our website'. Canon David went on to offer a warm invitation: 'So why not pay St John's a virtual visit ... and then come along to see with your own eyes'.
